

FORCE THE SILVER BILL.

When the Bland free coinage bill, which had been favorably reported by the Committee on Coinage, was before the House of Representatives there was enough friends of the measure to prevent it being laid on the table. It was claimed by Bland and others, who knew how the members stood on the question, that if the bill had been placed on its passage a number of members who voted to table it would have voted for it, because their constituents so instructed them.

It is broadly intimated that Wall street influences have so polluted Congress that only a few pronounced silver men like Bland make persistent effort to force the bill to a passage. An effort is being made to get a certain number of members to sign a request to the Committee on Rules to make it a bill a special order for a certain day, but somehow, owing to the absence of some of the members from Washington or other cause, the requisite number of signatures have not yet been procured and fears are entertained that no further action on the bill will be taken before Congress adjourns.

It is suggested by some aggressive newspapers that their men adopt tactics that will secure them recognition. By sending a few pat measures to the calendar they can compel the gold men of both parties to bring the Bland bill to a vote. Wall street may control Harter, Tracy and some others, but it is not probable that it has bought a majority of the House of Representatives. There is no other measure before Congress in which the general public takes such interest as it does in the free coinage bill and it Western and Southern members force it to the front and press it through both Houses before the National conventions it will be the main issue of the Presidential election.

THE MINNEAPOLIS CONVENTION.

Direct communication is to be established between Minneapolis and the White House during the National Republican Convention. President Harrison will have a wire to the library and is expected to know the result two minutes after the vote is made known to the Convention. Some of the President's friends claim that he has now enough delegates pledged to insure his nomination, but those who oppose him do not concede the claim. Clarkson, Quay, Platt and other prominent bosses are not favorably disposed toward Harrison. Clarkson is Chairman of the Republican National Committee and he figures up that there will be more uncommitted delegates in the Minneapolis Convention than was ever known in the history of the Republican party. He says the States which are expected to elect Harrison have not instructed for him, though Federal office holders claim that his nomination is already settled. He is satisfied that several ballots will be cast and he does not seem to think that Harrison will be the nominee.

CHANGED ITS TUNE AGAIN.

The Wall Street organ has changed its tune from Wallace and Cassidy to Kelley and Norcross. Less than two weeks ago it declared that the silver movement was being engineered in the interest of Cassidy for Congress and against the interest of the Air Line Railroad. Now, according to its latest notes, Cassidy is not and never was a member of a Silver Club. As neither Kelley nor Norcross are seeking office nor emolument and have only exercised the right of American citizens by pledging themselves with others to vote for no man who is an enemy of the State, the squeaks of the organ only prove that it is badly out of tune and not in accord with the spirit of the times nor the temper of the people.

"I am for the principles of Democratic government, by which I mean a government for the whole people and not a government for corporations against the people.

"Subordinate to this I am for 'revenue reform,' by which I mean a modification of the tariff laws so that taxes will be reduced and equalized and protection given to labor as well as to capital employed in American industry.

"Next I am for sound currency; by this I mean sufficient money of gold and silver to answer the legitimate purposes of trade and commerce. To this end I insist upon the free coinage of both gold and silver upon conditions of perfect equality, each to be a tender for public dues and private debts.

"Next, I am for compelling public carriers to treat persons and property for reasonable rates and upon equal terms.

"Finally, I am for men who will enforce these principles."—General R. M. Clarke.

Notwithstanding the general complaint of dull times from all parts of the State caused by the closing of mines, a little coterie of schemers calling themselves Republicans and Democrats, but in reality nothing more or less than place hunters, are resorting to the most contemptible methods that their minds can conceive to misrepresent the men who, placing the interest and welfare of the State above all private considerations, are endeavoring to get silver re-emitted by making it the principal issue of the campaign and serving notice upon the Republican and Democratic leaders that they shall not receive their votes for any office unless they are unqualifiedly for free coinage.

The delegates elected in Humboldt county to the Democratic State Convention are C. O. Biles and Fred Buckingham of Paradise; C. A. LaGrave, L. F. Dunn, Chris Duhl and Walter Dwyer of Winnemucca; Peter Woolcock of Mill City and H. W. Fass and W. C. Pitt of Lovelock. Every one of these men are for absolutely free coinage and opposed to the gold kings, whether they parade as Democrats or Republicans.

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

The Floods.

SIoux CITY, May 19.—Flood river is subsiding, and only a rough estimate from yesterday's floods is possible. The loss of life will reach twenty-five and perhaps higher. A number of persons are reported missing. Three bodies were recovered today. The Stock Yards Company estimate their loss at from $450,000 to $500,000. The loss of houses, furniture and stocks of goods in the flooded district will aggregate $350,000, and the damage to the city pavements, etc. will amount to $100,000. The street railways are also considerable losers, but the railroads are the greatest individual losers. Up the Floyd river for twenty miles the Sioux City and the Northwestern and Illinois Central tracks are washed away or damaged. The loss to the railroad companies is estimated at about three-quarters of a million dollars. The citizens are carrying on active relief work, and full confidence of their ability to provide for the destitute.

SPENCER CITY, Iowa, May 19.—Reports from all the points in this and adjoining counties show great damage to crops and stock, and numerous herds of cattle along the Sioux and Cornland rivers are surrounded by waters and will be drowned. All the bridges are washed out, making travel by team impossible. All the cellars in the city are flooded and considerable local damage has been done. Present indications are for fair weather. Railroad communication is not yet established, but trains are expected to be running to-morrow.

DOUGLASS, May 19.—The Mississippi is rising steadily. The islands in front of the town are covered with water, and from all over the country come reports of heavy rains. The overflowing rivers have discouraged the farmers, though so far no serious damage has been done.

FOUR DODGE, May 19.—The Des Moines river came to a standstill to-day, and is now falling. The residents of Floyd Valley are the worst sufferers. There are thousands of homeless, and fully one hundred found watery graves. The loss by the flood in this district will reach into the millions.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The House went into the Committee of the Whole, Lester of Georgia in the Chair, on the Sundry Civil bill. The Chair delivered his decision on the point of order made against Bland's amendment yesterday. "It was conceded," said the Chair, "that the amendment changed an existing law, and therefore it would not be in order unless, being germane, it reduced the amount covered by the bill." The Chair was unable to see how the amendment was germane, as it did not reduce the amounts covered by the bill. He therefore sustained the point of order and ruled out the amendment. Bland then re-offered the amendment with the proviso attached "that the cost of this coinage shall not exceed $93,000, $5,000 of which shall be for the coinage of subsidiary silver and the remainder for standard silver dollars." Bland said that he attached the proviso in order to remove the Chair's objection that the amendment did not reduce the amounts covered by the bill. Considerable discussion followed and finally the Chair said he had heard nothing to change his opinion, and that the amendment was not germane and therefore ruled it as modified and out of order. Bland appealed from the decision of the Chair, but the Committee sustained the decision of the Chair by a vote of 130 to 75. Johnson of Indiana ridiculed the Democratic party for their action on the silver question. He said they let pass four occasions on which they might have redeemed the silver pledge. Cogswell of Massachusetts offered an amendment appropriating $1,016,445 for continuing the work of the 11th census. The amendment was rejected. The Committee arose and the House adjourned.

In the afternoon the engineers visited the Pacific Rolling Mills and Union Iron Works, and inspected the Government vessels in course of construction at the latter place.

Presbyterian Assembly.

PORTLAND, Or., May 19.—The Presbyterian general assembly which convened this morning elected Rev. Dr. Wm. C. Young of Louisville, Kentucky, moderator this afternoon. The assembly adjourned till this evening when sacrament was administered.

The Ship Explodes.

ALBANY, Or., May 19.—The steamship St. Charles exploded to-day. The explosion was caused by the accumulation of coal gas in the hold which was ignited by men going below with a light. Captain Chapman was fatally injured and the second mate and a sailor were badly bruised. A big hole was torn in the stern of the ship, but fortunately the boats were not injured and the crew got away before the vessel sank.

Suit Dismissed.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—The suit of Rev. Dr. John W. Ellis, ex-pastor of the Central Presbyterian Tabernacle, in this city to recover $100,000 damages for alleged defamation of character and conspiracy on the part of the San Francisco Presbytery was dismissed by Superior Judge Wallace to-day, who held that no malice on the part of the Presbytery had been shown by the plaintiff's testimony.

Narrow Escape.

On her way to school yesterday morning the horse which Miss Clara Litch was driving became unmanageable and attempted to run away, but was checked by the plucky young lady who held the reins. Miss Litch stopped at the school house, let out her companion, and the horse, becoming frightened, became uncontrollable again, and rather than run the risk of turning the corner Miss Litch guided the horse into a fence. The result was a complete wreck, but fortunately Miss Litch escaped with but a few scratches.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take a few days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not buy anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELIZA A. GORRY, of Terrace Street, Boston.

AN OLD TIME DEMOCRAT.

What He Says on the Silver Question.

CLOVERDALE, Nye County, Nev., May 12 1892.

EDITOR OF THE STATE JOURNAL:—As some seem to doubt the wisdom of a third party for fear there will be a row, I favor it for fear there won't be one without it. Do we desire peace at the expense of manhood? Had the Democratic party made war on Cleveland when he wrote the Warner letter, before he was President, it would have saved us all grace and prevented the trouble now. There was but one Democrat to public life that favored Cleveland's views, or rather Sherman's views, on finance, but he surrounded himself with friends differing with 98 per cent of the Democrats on finance. We submitted, there was never but one voice raised against him. Blackburn commented, but unfortunately died. Cleveland laid claim to the nomination the second time, made his own platform, chose his own ground, ignored silver and was defeated. Then the Democratic party went back to where they left off again, adopted the silver question and won in 1890. Now are we to back down again when the party refuses to carry out the wishes of the people, as expressed at the polls? Senator Vilas says "that the South wants free silver, but will accept Cleveland in preference to the force bill." If the Senators west of the Mississippi would assure the Southern people that they would not be troubled with such a bill the Southern states might yet defeat Cleveland's nomination. Neither Wisconsin, New York or New England defeated the bill, but big-hearted Nevada and Colorado. Does any Republican in Nevada want to disfranchise the Southern people for the only crime of wanting free silver? Certainly not.

How is that for the nineteenth century in free America to have one United States Senator say, accept this man or we will withdraw and let the Republicans disfranchise you. Clarkson says the Republican issue will be the force bill and single standard. Are not the people in the Southern States in a helpless condition? Exactly 5 per cent of what they have to sell has to go to Europe and they get no benefit from protection as they are not manufacturing States. If free coinage is wrong we were wrong from the foundation of the government to 1873 and Sherman is right. When we accept Cleveland, or Harrison for that matter, we say Sherman is right. Then let us apologize to the Ohio Senator and nominate him, for he certainly would deserve the credit, and not give it to a man that never advanced an original idea. Senator Vilas says, "that little Nevada with her two silver Senators will yet instruct for Cleveland." No wonder she is little when he has been robbed. Senator Morrill said the other day that it would cost the government $108,000,000 more if there had been free coinage. That is true, but he did not say that the silver mines lost that. The government is now taking nearly 40 per cent of what we produce. Is there any other business that they make the people divide? Suppose they should want protected interests to divide, would Senator Morrill be willing? Certainly we are not wrong, but when we accept Cleveland or Harrison we admit that we are. The Mormons never took but 10 per cent, in tithing Uncle Sam has been taking from 15 to 40 per cent, and only allows us one wife to earn the amount with. (Hard is our lot.) Cleveland's obstinacy is taken for firmness, and his self-conceit for wisdom. The Middle and New England States can tender a gold bug the nomination, but they haven't an electoral vote to offer. Any Western free coinage candidate can carry New York against Harrison, as they have a family row of no small dimensions.

Urges on the fight. I never will vote for Cleveland. Nevada will give her three electoral votes to a silver candidate. If either of the two old parties give us a suitable candidate and platform, all right. Let us vote for them to a man, but if they fail, run the free coinage banner to the mast head. The Eastern press say neither of the parties care for the mining States upon the question. Honors are easy, as we care so little for them. The Democrats opposed the present commodity law on the plea that they wanted free coinage, and now they are clamoring for the repeal of that law and refuse to give us anything in return. We are told that free coinage will lose New York. Why not tell them that single standard will lose the West. Let us play the rule or ruin game while we can; make it any worse. We swopped a principle for a policy once and got cheated. Stand by our colors is the only hope.

"HER HUSBAND."

"All the World Loves a Lover."

The St. Louis Republican says of "Her Husband," which will appear at McKisick's Opera House next Wednesday: "All the world loves a lover," was what those said who witnessed the performance of "Her Husband," written by Annie Lewis Johnson, at the City Theater.

"The scenes of the play are the beautiful Moss farm of Margery Lee near Charleston, a parlor at Mrs. St. Vincent's, the ante-room of a New York hotel and the elegant reception room at the mansion of Mrs. Hastings, as Margery becomes after she receives great wealth from a deceased uncle.

The plot of the play is very interesting and skillfully arranged, so that one scene leads up to another, and the audience closely follows all the language and actions. The applause was liberal and enthusiastic."

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

THE SILVER LEAGUE.

The Organization Perfected Last Evening.

A meeting of the Washoe County Silver League was held in Armory Hall last evening for the purpose of perfecting the organization. Notwithstanding the many other attractions in the town the meeting was fairly well attended. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, which were adopted.

The Committee on Organization and Order of Business reported rules and regulations for the government of the club, and on motion they were unanimously adopted. The Committee on Platform and Resolutions, consisting of Dr. Bergstein, G. W. Mapes, John Bowman, Dr. J. A. Lewis and Professor Bray, was made permanent.

The Secretary reported that 1,100 copies of the pledge and resolutions had been sent to voters and that a considerable number of them had been returned with the signatures of four or five voters, making the present membership of the club over four hundred.

Judge Currier, W. H. A. Pike, H. H. Beck and Dr. Bergstein addressed the meeting, and each and all made telling points which were applauded.

The Committee on Finance made a partial report, the Chairman, District Attorney Justice, being unavoidably absent.

Judge Webster moved that the Committee on Resolutions be instructed to report a resolution looking to the union of the several County Leagues and the organization of a State League.

It was recommended that copies of the pledge be left at business houses in town favorable to the League for signatures.

On motion the League adjourned until Thursday, June 2d, at 8 o'clock p. m.

THE GILMORE TRIAL.

A Jury Secured and a Number of Witnesses Examined.

The further work of securing a jury in the Gilmore case was continued yesterday morning. At ten o'clock a jury was finally secured.

The first witness called was Col. H. B. Maxon, the well-known civil engineer, who exhibited a carefully and accurately drawn map of the premises where the shooting occurred.

Miss Jessie McGuire, one of the habitues of the house at the time of the shooting, was then examined, and testified among other things that she heard Savage ask where Gilmore was, and saw him go into the saloon and act as if he were in the possession of a weapon, and immediately heard two shots.

Dr. Lewis then testified as to a medical examination that he had made and that death resulted from the bullet wound. In the afternoon session Mr. W. H. Joy of the County Hospital was called and testified as to the ante mortem statements made by Savage.

Among other witnesses who testified were Dr. Bergstein, James Murphy, Constable Upson, John Keeth, John Hogan and Mrs. Gilmore.

The case is attracting considerable attention and will probably occupy the attention of the Court to-day and to-morrow.

An Injunction.

There are two kinds the courts tell you—a temporary and a permanent injunction. A temporary injunction gives relief for a time only, but when you take Simmons Liver Regulator for Dyspepsia, and find yourself cured, that means a permanent injunction. It's the same when taking the Regulator for Malaria, and all affections of the liver and kidneys.

A Pleasant Lawn Party.

A number of young people, the cream of Reno's youth, beauty and intelligence, revelled in the delights of a lawn party last night. The merry gathering kept up a round of social merriment until a late hour. The JOURNAL reporter, owing to lack of space, is unable to give the names of all present. There were representatives from Carson and other neighboring towns.

Geo. I. Lemon, once a poor pension clerk in Washington, is now the richest man in Washington. While clerk to the Pension Bureau he obtained information of value, and in collusion with Commissioner Baum, he made over $1,000,000 in a single year out of pension cases.

A Great Tailor Dies.

A French military tailor of great renown has lately joined the majority, after having outlived by more than a score of years the period of splendor and extravagance, in connection with army uniforms, which set in under the regime of the first consul, and came to a close simultaneously with the fall of the second empire. M. Panle, the "tailor" in question, whose funeral took place in Paris recently, had himself been a soldier before the thirties, and on the accession of Charles X. was transferred from the stately corps of the guard (military) to a crack hussar regiment, in which his sartorial talent soon enabled him to attain the position of "tailleur en chef." His reputation for good taste and correct judgment spread rapidly through the French army, so that in course of time the clothing board accustomed itself to consult him respecting all important changes in uniform and equipment, and it became his privilege to set the fashions for the French cavalry in particular. Panle's influence endured through the reigns of the citizen king and of "the nephew of his uncle." The late emperor held Panle's gifts in such high estimation that he would not wear any military dress which had not been turned out by the famous ex-hussar, who was, moreover, honored by a special command to "create" the first uniform—that of a grenadier of the guard—ever induced by the prince imperial. Panle's taste seems to have suited Legitimists, Orleansists and Bonapartists equally well. —London Standard.

Uncle Sam's Treasury Vaults Insecure.

The report of the committee of experts says the whole system of vaults and safes wherein are stored the treasure of the government is defective. Vault No. 1 in the treasury building is absolutely valueless as a protection to its contents. Other vaults named in the report are also described as practically valueless. The commission recommends that with such immense values at stake the government should immediately adopt throughout a system of the best modern vaults with the most perfect locking arrangements.

They urge the replacing of every vault in the treasury building with new ones. In rebuilding the vaults they should be so constructed that they can be at all times inspected from every side. The report says that the vaults in the subtreasury in New York are all safer than the vaults at Washington. —Washington Post.

Then the Wind Ceased to Blow.

One of Kansas City's prominent citizens was escorting his wife along the street during the high winds of Friday when they were caught by a particularly strong breeze and almost lifted off their feet. The citizen caught hold of a brass rail and his wife clung to his arm, but the citizen's hold was loosened, and two fingers were sprained. His wife was torn away from him and driven across the street. As she sailed away he called after her. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

That produced a calm, and as the wife returned the smile departed from the citizen's face. —Kansas City Times.

Sumac Poisoning.

Some careful experiments have been made by eminent pathologists on poison by the sumac, the result indicating an almost perfect identity in the result with the disease known as erysipelas, and it is suggested therefore that the same remedy may be used for Rhus poison as for the trouble in erysipelas. A rather of common potash soap, made strong and applied with a shaving brush on the affected parts, is a well known and effectual remedy. Those liable to be poisoned by this plant will do well to remember this. —Meehan's Monthly.

The Largest Pair of Shoes.

A Georgia shoemaker has finished the largest pair of shoes ever made for actual use. It took a piece of leather containing 1,040 square inches to make the uppers, and one of 1,960 square inches to make the soles, or exactly 3,000 square inches of leather altogether. If the leather contained in that pair of shoes were cut into strips an eighth of an inch wide it would make a string 24,000 inches long. The soles of this gigantic pair of shoes are 14 inches long and 5 1/2 inches wide. The two combined weight the scales at exactly 6 3/4 pounds. —St. Louis Republic.

Serving God and Country.

Joseph Frothingham of Exeter, N. H., is ninety years old, and relates that he was at church at Salem, Mass., on the Sunday when the United States ship Old Ironsides was chased into Marblehead bay by three British frigates. Old Dr. Bentley, who was preaching when the news came, dismissed the congregation with the words, "We have served God in the forenoon, and now we will serve our country in the afternoon."

Nearly Killed by a Rooster.

A four-year-old son of William T. Burns, of Lancaster, is lying in a serious condition through an attack made on him by a rooster. While fondling a pet hen the rooster flew upon him, inflicting a number of ugly holes on his left temple which bled profusely. The child became seriously ill, and is now threatened with blood poisoning. —Cor Philadelphia Ledger.

A Cow Raised to the Roof.

Wonderful things happen in Kansas. During the recent cyclone it is said that at Haven River a cow was lifted from the ground and carried to the top of a house and deposited on an angle of the roof so that she could not fall and it was necessary to kill her to get her from her position.

"German Syrup"

Here is something from Mr. Frank A. Hale, proprietor of the De Witt House, Lewiston, and the Tontine Hotel, Brunswick, Me. Hotel men meet the world as it comes and goes, and are not slow in sizing people and things up for what they are worth. He says that he has lost a father and several brothers and sisters from Pulmonary Consumption, and is himself frequently troubled with colds, and he often coughs enough to make him sick at Consumption's stomach. Whenever he has taken a cold of this kind he uses Boschee's German Syrup, and it cures him every time. Here is a man who knows the full danger of lung troubles, and would therefore be most particular as to the medicine he used. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market."

W. L. KNORR, JR., Attorney.

Reno, April 26, 1892.

An Unworthy Locomotive.

Mr. Wood, who resides near Lowesville, is the father of a very handsome daughter. In the morning this young lady attended Sunday school at a church some distance from her home. After the session the lover of the young lady, named Campbell, appeared on the scene in company with two companions, and the party started for the nearest railroad station to take the train for Washington, where the young couple were to be married. The prospective bride rode behind her lover on the same horse.

The young lady's father heard of the runaway and, mounting his horse and aiming himself with a shotgun, galloped in pursuit. He overtook the party near Amherst court house and opened fire. The two companions of the lovers immediately put spurs to their horses and have not been seen since. The other animal, tired of carrying double, buckled, and the young lady, losing her seat, fell to the ground. Her would be husband, fearing that he would be riddled with bullets followed his flying chums into the village of Amherst and sought shelter behind a rock wall.

He was afterward arrested by the county authorities and fined $2.50 for disturbing the peace. The young lady's father remounted his horse, took the young lady up behind him, and placing his trusty weapon across the pommel of his saddle returned homeward. —Cor. Richmond (Va.) Times.

Kipling to Settle in Vermont.

Mr. Rudyard Kipling is in Vancouver awaiting the sailing of the Empress, by which he and his bride will go to Japan. He said the people in England were being aroused to the vastness and great future of the northwest of Canada. At one time absolute ignorance had prevailed among educated Englishmen regarding Canada. They had looked upon the northwest as part of the American republic, but they had awakened to the fact that a boundary line existed, and that the Canadian portion of the continent was much the more desirable for settlement.

He was on his way to India, but proposed remaining for a time in Japan, China and New Zealand. After his visit to India it was his intention to take up his permanent abode in Vermont, U. S. A., where his wife had been born. He had purchased some property there with that object in view. On his first visit to Vancouver he had come directly from San Francisco. —Vancouver Telegram.

Jane the Window Smasher.

A woman has been arrested at West Superior who is thought to be the erratic and notorious window smasher known as Harriet Beebe, who created such a sensation in Ashland recently. She was noticed acting strangely in Tower avenue, in front of the offices of Drs. C. V. and L. W. Beebe, and arrested on suspicion of smashing a window. "My name is Mary O'Brien, but my real name is Mrs. E. J. Haley, and my husband is a well to do St. Paul druggist. I came here to smash Dr. Carl Beebe's windows. Why do I break windows? Oh, I like to hear the crash and jingle. I use a stone like this," producing one from the bosom of her dress. The woman is well dressed and quite good looking. —Cor. St. Paul Globe.

Lassoed a Mountain Lion.

A savage mountain lion was turned loose at Ridgeway and two hours later a large band of horsemen and a pack of hounds began a chase. The lion had been in captivity a year and a half. Its feet were tender and limbs unused to exercise, and it had traveled only a few miles when it was freed. A cowboy lassoed it and pulled it down from the tree, and it was taken back to town in a wagon and again placed in its cage. The chase was witnessed by many people from Ouray and the entire population in and around Ridgeway. —Ouray (Colo.) Cor. St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A Tussle with an Alligator.

A boy fishing discovered an alligator in a ditch between Lakes Gore and Minnie, in the southeastern part of Orlando. He raised an alarm. B. T. Knhl came with a small rope and lassoed the saurian. A terrific struggle then began. Mr. Middlekauff arrived presently. His ax was brought into play and several large gashes were cut in the reptile's head. He measured eight and a half feet. He is responsible for the loss of many ducks, dogs etc. —Cor Florida Times-Union.

Goos to School Faithfully.

The crown prince of Japan, who bears the enigmatical name of Yoshihito Harunomiya and is now thirteen years old, is made to recognize that there is no royal road to learning. He attends the high school in Tokyo and in his school report of last term particular mention is made of his diligence and of the fact that during the whole of last year his imperial highness did not miss a single day's attendance. —London Pitt-Bits.

Flowers for the Fair.

From the royal nurseries for Ireland John Thorpe, of the bureau of floriculture, has received information that two cases containing 1,550 plants have been shipped to the World's fair. Mr. Thorpe believes that his floral display will eclipse anything of the sort which the world has ever seen.

A man was guillotined in Switzerland two weeks ago for murder. It was the first execution in Switzerland for twenty-five years, capital punishment having been abolished in 1877 and that method of inflicting punishment having been resumed only recently.
